Habits of Good Writers

- Decide on the topic you are going to write about.
- Brainstorm—think of what you are going to say about the topic.
- Make up a plan for how you are going to organize your ideas on the topic.
- Write down your ideas as clearly as you can.
- Reread your first draft to be sure you have said everything you wanted to say as clearly as possible.
- Make any changes so that your reader will understand exactly what you are trying to say.
- Edit your work for spelling, punctuation, and correct grammar.

Habits of Good Readers

- Recognize the words on the page.
- Know the meanings of the words.
- Think about the ideas of the story.
- Use the information you already know to understand what you are reading.

A Fistful of Words

1. Pick a page of a book or magazine you want to read.
2. Look at each word on that page. Begin to make a “fist” of words you don’t recognize. For each word that you don’t recognize, bend one of your fingers down.
3. If all five fingers are down, that is, if you have made a fist before you come to the last word on that page, then you have a “fistful of words” that you do not know. That is a sign that you probably will need some help in reading that book.
